DEFEND FEDERAL SUPPORT FOR CLEAN ENERGY IN ALASKA

Use the talking points below when calling Alaska's Congressional delegation. You don't have to say everything — just speak from the heart and feel free to use your own words.

Stories of how the loss of these funds will impact you and your community are the most powerful thing you can share.

I'm calling to ask you to protect federal support for clean energy in Alaska.

- These tax credits and incentives are critical for bringing reliable, affordable energy to our communities.

Without these incentives, energy projects in our communities will stall.

- From transmission to batteries and solar, these upgrades are essential to modernize our energy systems — and we can't afford delays.

This funding lowers energy costs and creates good jobs for Alaskans.

- Using our own resources to generate power cuts costs and creates career opportunities in every region of the state.

These investments strengthen Alaska's energy independence.

- We shouldn't be relying on expensive outside fuel. Local clean power protects us from global price spikes and helps Alaska stand on its own.

Please fight to keep this funding in place.

- Our utilities and communities need stable federal policies to make smart, long-term decisions. Don't pull the plug on Alaska's future.
